I'm trying to figure out if I can use Gravestone with an Acolyte of Flame in play. From the product description on SCG: An instant, target, instant effect is one of the easiest (and most powerful) things you can do in Magic. It's a little bit like Sacrifice, in the sense that both are elegant, powerful ways to add value to your mana pool and is a great way to interact with your opponent's strategy. But Acolyte of Flame and anything that interacts with it is not a sacrifice. It's a targeted effect, so it doesn't care about sacrificing a permanent for its effect. The best way to understand this is to imagine that you could always cast Acolyte of Flame in front of any activated abilities of your opponent and it would trigger on the spot. One example is to play a colourless land, sacrifice it, and then cast a targeted burn creature to deal damage to your opponent. With enough burn spells this can be devastating. It's important to note that if you are playing Magic Online, it can only target objects that are in the graveyard. That's why Acolyte wouldn't target creatures or players. Does that mean I can't use Gravestone with the Acolyte of Flame? A: Acolyte of Flame can target your graveyard with its ability. Therefore, Gravestone can target the graveyard with its ability, but the ability won't trigger on the battlefield.
